Suggested Ways to Plant a Tree

All three organisations plant trees suitable for the environment and in keeping with the local wildlife.

Word Forest Organisation: www.wordforest.org

The Word Forest Organisation is a UK based charity that plants trees, builds classrooms, facilitates education, and supports a women's empowerment group in Kenya. It also raises environmental awareness and plants trees in the UK too. A single tree costs £2.50 and a certificate £2.50.

The Society of St Columba: Email: info@st-columba.com

This is a new monastic Christian community based at Chanctonbury deep in the heart of the South Downs National Park. The community is open to visitors and you can arrange to plant your own tree. Trees planted are five years old and cost round £35.

The National Trust: www.nationaltrust.org.uk/plant-a-tree

The National Trust is aiming to plant 20 million native trees by 2030 at various sites across the UK. Trees cost £5 for a sapling and a digital certificate will be issued via email.

You can plant a tree for yourself, as a gift to someone special or in memory of a loved one.
